MULLIN WHIPPED BY THE CLIMBERS IN UPWARD RUSH

Griffith's Nationals Hand Tiger Star Good Beating—Joe Engel Toes the Slab.
FINAL COUNT SEVEN TO THREE

By WILLIAM PEET.
Detroit, Mich., June 10.—Out-batting, out-fielding, and out-playing the Detroit Tigers at every stage of the game the Nationals continued their sensational winning streak this afternoon, adding their eleventh straight victory, and handling the famous Jugglers a good old fashioned beating, 7 to 3.

Detroit had full playing strength in the field. Delehanty on second and Gainer at first, with George Mullin, a wise pitcher, in the box, while Griff opened this formidable array of talent with a couple of kid pitchers, Joe Engel and Jay Carl Cashion, and got away with the ball game. The Old Fox wanted to give Groom and Johnson a good rest, and proposed to do it even at the expense of today's game. That he was able to pull out on top with Engel and Cashion means that barring a slump, the Nationals will win four straight victories here in Detroit, as Jennings has no other pitchers in his stable, now that Willett and Mullin have been used, who will likely cause Griff's youngsters much trouble.

Baseball writers here emitted wild shrieks of horror through their respective organs this morning that Washington should have handed Sunday's game on a silver platter, but these same word painters were mum as oysters when the curtain dropped on today's matinee. "Yes," one of them admitted, "you have got to hand it to the Nationals, they are easily the best looking ball club we have seen here this season."

Engel Starts Game.
Joe Engel, the Washington boy, started today his third game since he could call himself a big leaguer, and retired under fire in the seventh. Up to that inning Engel allowed but three hits, and but for a base on balls in the opener would have held the Tigers rattleless.
There is no use mincing matters. Jennings' Tigers batted Engel all over the lot in the seventh, and with none out, first and second, and Sam Crawford up, Griff yanked Engel and put Cashion to work. Jay Carl pulled out of a mighty tight hole by retiring the side without a run, and followed this up with gut-busted work in the eighth and ninth.

Every one of the Nationals' seven tal-lions were honestly earned. Hite came at the right time, and Griff's young athletes showed remarkable speed on the bases.
Moeller and Gandil led in the assault with the stick, three safe wallops each.
Shanks only came through with one solid whack, but he inserted the blow when second and third were loaded, and scored a couple of runs. George McBride and Denny Moeller were the gentles who pulled off the sensational fielding stunts for Griff's gang.

Moeller Gets Triple.
Mullin had the pleasure of trimming Washington when the Tigers appeared in the Capital last month, and everybody was out for revenge to-day. A taste of what would be expected was handed Mullin at second, and he was the first to hit the first ball pitched between Cobb and Crawford for a three-bagger. Eddie Foster dumped a single into left and Moeller scored.

The Tigers got their run back in their half of the first inning. Bush drew a walk, and although Jones and Cobb both died, Crawford hit savagely to left, and Bush came home. Moeller opened the Nationals' third with a clean single to left. Buzz Foster singled to right, and Moeller cleared to third. Millan forced Foster at second, and on this play Moeller scored.
From the second until the seventh Joe Engel twirled great ball. He issued a pass now and then, but did not allow any hits, and he looked as if the youngster would get away with his game. In the meantime, the Nationals tacked on three more runs.
Engel himself opened the fifth by going out on an easy grounder to Mullin.
Moeller walked and stole second. Foster lined to Jones. Millan was passed, and Chick Gandil picked out one of Mullin's shoots to his left. Mullin drove the ball up against the left field fence, scoring both Moeller and Millan. Shanks made the third out on a fly to Gainer.

Peach by three feet, and the trouble was over.
The Tigers managed to reach Cashion for a couple of hits in the ninth, but slit-edged fielding prevented scoring.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Bob Groom is slated to work to-mor-row's game for the Nationals, while the Tigers may send in Denny Moeller. The game is expected to be a close one, as out of the way, that they will beat anything Jennings puts up before them.

These are great days for Germany Schaefer. The comedian is on the coaching lines every inning, and pulls off some of the funniest stuff ever heard on the grounds. His latest announcement is:
"Ladies and gentlemen, I have telephoned a contractor in Washington to erect 4,000 extra seats, so that we will be able to accommodate the crowds when the Nationals play the New York Giants for the World's championship next fall."

By Cobb hit an easy grounder at Gandil the first time the Peach faced Joe Engel.

The Nationals got Shanks to the midway in the second, but Morgan flied to Jones, while McBride and Engel struck out.

Ray Morgan ran into center field and pulled down Mullin's drive in the Tigers' second, thereby saving a run, as Gainer was on second at the time.

With Mullin on second, Cobb on first, and Crawford up, in the Tigers' fifth, things looked black, but the mighty Sam Gave Morgan a hard grounder, and perished at first, for the third out.

McBride beat out a roller in the sixth by sliding into first base.

Shanks did not get a hit until the seventh, and then his line drive, which landed in Ty Cobb's territory, scored two runs.

Cashion started in to pitch with nobody out, first and second filled, and Crawford up, and pulled out with flying colours.

Danny Moeller made a grand-stand catch of Mullin's high fly in the eighth, which saved a run.

Millan was clearly safe at the plate in the Nationals' ninth, as he kicked the ball out of Catcher Owens's hands, but Umpire Westcott couldn't see it, and declared Millan out.

Mullin made one of the queerest errors on record, grabbing a tap from Moeller's bat and running across the sack, but dropping the ball as he went over.

PAST PERFORMANCES

It's a shame to take the money. Our Gleaming Gladiators are again to the fore, and running under a wrap. Some of these bright, sunny days you-all will wake up to the fact that we have a contender for the flag, and it will all be so.

To-day looks like our class, only more so.

Understand the free list is suspended on the 15th. Well, we-us are game, and are willing to frame one rain check.

RED SOX ARE NOW IN FIRST PLACE

Austin's Wild Heave in the Ninth Gives Boston Tally that Wins.
Score 3 to 2.

St. Louis, Mo., June 10.—A wild throw in the ninth inning by Austin gave the Red Sox the run that beat the Browns to-day, 3 to 2. With Yerkes on first, and two out, Lewis grounded down the third line, and Austin, trying for a quick throw, heaved past Stovall, Yerkes completing the circuit. Catcher Stephens was put out of the game for kicking.
Gardner was the batting star. The result of today's game puts Boston in first place, Chicago dropping to second, and Washington coming third in third.

FOURNIER LOSES GAME.

Throws Wild to Plate, Two Yanks Scoring—Final Count 5 to 2.

Chicago, June 10.—The Yankees took to-day's game with the White Sox by the score of 5 to 2. With the bases full in the ninth, Ford practically won his own game when, with two strikes called, Lange put one straight over and Ford bunted to Fournier. The latter threw wild to the home plate and two Yanks galloped over the pan. Score:

ENGEL SLIPS ONE OVER.

Detroit, Mich., June 10.—Eight-teen-year-old Joe Engel, the Nationals' twirler, pulled a good one during to-day's game against the Tigers. Ty Cobb was at the bat in the fifth and had already gotten one hit. Cobb yelled to Engel: "Say, kid; you are the easiest mark I ever batted against."

Quick as a flash Engel retorted: "Who are you? I never heard of you before."
When Engel returned to the bench the players told him that Cobb was the man who did the talking.

Nativity, 8; Ingram, 8.

Nativity and Ingram battled to a tie yesterday in the Sunday School League.
Score, 8 to 8. The game was exciting

NOTABLE EVENTS IN BASEBALL.

JUNE 11.

1911—Cubs made fifteen hits off Weaver, Ferguson, Tyler, and McGuire, of Boston, winning 9 to 2.

1910—Stalling, Washington, shut out the Sox, 3 to 0.
Brown went in after Richle had been batted out and took the game from Mathewson, 6 to 5.
McQuillen, Phillies, shut out Pittsburgh, 5 to 0.

1909—Johnson, Washington, shut out Detroit, 1 to 0.
Young, Cleveland, pitched a two-hit game against Boston.

1907—Walsh, Chicago, shut the Highlanders out in a three-hit game, 1 to 0.

Athletics defeated St. Louis in an eleven-inning game, 3 to 1.

Moore, of the Phillies, shut St. Louis out in a three-hit game, 4 to 0.

Check, of the Naps, shut Boston out, 3 to 0.

The Cubs defeated Brooklyn, 2 to 1, in eleven innings.

1907—"Tun" Berger, former catcher for Washington, Indianapolis, and Pittsburgh, died at Allegheny, Pa.

GRIFFITH'S BAND CONFIDENT OF VICTORY TO-DAY

Nationals, with Either Bob Groom or Carl Cashion Hurling, Booked to Win Twelfth Straight.

ALL ARE FULL OF "PEP."

Special to The Washington Herald.

Detroit, June 10.—Manager Griffith's band of Grabbing Kids with their second victory over Jennings' Tigers, are confident of handing the Detroit lads another beating to-morrow, and with either Bob Groom, the toothpick hurler, or Jay Carl Cashion, the Carolina Curver, working, look to land their twelfth straight win.
The showing of the team has made the West sit up and take notice, and the old times when a Washington club was looked upon as easy pickings are passed.
Manager Jennings will send his star recruit, Dubois, against the Climbers tomorrow, and should they hand him a trouncing, the one hope left for the Tigers will be Bill Burns. Griff will work Johnson in the final game.

CATHEDRAL OUTDOOR GAMES.

Lane and Johnston Clubs Hold Dual Meet at Episcopal School.

A dual track and field meet was held on the Cathedral School campus yesterday between the Lane and Johnston
